PRESENTATIONS, TALKS, LECTURES

Collections and Research staff delivered more than 350 talks, seminars and lectures to nearly 69,000 people in 2015-16. Talks were targeted at both public and specialist audiences and saw a 253% increase from 2014-15 [138 in 2014-15].

Dr Geraldine Mate, Rob Shiels and David Mewes presented at the 2015 Railway Heritage Conference (The Workshops Rail Museum, July 2015)

Dr Brit Asmussen was invited to present the Tom Austen Brown Lecture in Australasian Archaeology at the University of Sydney (Aug 2015).

Dr Geraldine Mate presented at the Annual Australasian Society for Historical Archaeology Conference, Geelong (Sept 2015).

David Mewes, Curator, presented at two international conferences in the United States. He presented at San Jacinto, and at the 35th National Narrow Gauge Convention, Houston, Texas he presented two papers (Sept 2015).

Suzanne Miller delivered the 2015 Science Graduation Address Conference for Griffith University (Oct 2015).

Suzanne Miller presented at the 2015 STEAD-X- bringing science to the people Conference (Nov 2015)

Imelda Miller, Assistant Curator, Torres Strait Islander and Pacific Indigenous Studies was invited and funded to present a keynote lecture, A Complex State – An exploration of Australian South Sea Islander identity, at the Pacific Arts Association 12th International Symposium in Auckland New Zealand (March 2016).

Kerry Cody, Head of IMIT, presented the 'Building a Digital Archive'. In Building Relationships in a Digital World paper at the Proceedings of the National Conference of the Australian Society – Archives on the Edge, Tasmania (Aug 2015).

Ric Manalac presented 'Building interactive digital experiences with IntuiFace: a hands-on workshop'. The workshop was presented at the Museums and the Web in Asia Conference, Melbourne, Victoria (Oct 2015) and again at the Museums and the Web Conference, Los Angeles, California (April 2016).
